

Instruction to Authors

Journal of Health Science is published by Health Technical Office, Ministry of Public Health, Thailand. The Journal has been published regularly since 1992. The publication is managed by an editorial team appointed by the Ministry of Health. The team is comprised of outstanding technical experts within the Ministry as well as those from various leading medical and health institutions. In addition, several multidisciplinary experts are invited to support the Journal in the capacity of reviewers who carefully reviewed the quality of submitted manuscripts before being accepted for publication. Six issues of the Journal are produced each year: (1) January-February, (2) March-April, (3) May-June, (4) July-August, (5) September-October, and (6) November-December.

The Journal of Health Science welcomes all kinds of health-related articles. These included:

1. Original article
 2. Review article
 3. Special article
 4. Case report
 5. Miscellany
 6. Letters to the editor,
- Etc.

Each article must not be published elsewhere; and the contents of the article should not exceed 10 pages.

Preparation of Manuscript

A manuscript should be prepared as follow:

1. The structure of original article should be in the following order:

- Title
- Author name(s), with abbreviation of academic qualification (such as B.Sc., M.D., or Ph.D.)
- Author address(es)
- Key words, 1-5 key words in alphabetic order
- Introduction
- Material and Methods
- Results
- Discussion
- Acknowledgement
- References

2. The Health Science Journal uses a citation method that follows the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Publication (Vancouver Style). Abbreviations should be based on the U.S. National Library of Index Medicus (see examples below).

3. A manuscript can be submitted online at: <https://digitaljournals.moph.go.th>. It should be submitted in Word format. In addition, during the transition phase, authors are encouraged to submit three sets of the manuscript and an electronic file on a CD to the Journal at the following address:

Health Technical Office

Submission of the Manuscript

The submission documents should include a cover page containing information on the corresponding author who will be responsible for communication with the Journal regarding the process required for the improvement of the manuscript. Such information includes name, office phone number, mobile phone number and an e-mail address. In addition, as a preparation for full online submission, authors are advised to submit the manuscript online through the website: <https://digitaljournals.moph.go.th>. More information about the Journal and the submission process is available at <http://healthtechnical.go.th>.

All submission will be acknowledged by the Editor. Those unaccepted will also be notified. The Editor reserves right to edit all manuscripts for proper publication according to the format of the Journal.

Sample Reference List

Reference should be written in Vancouver style. If the reference has less than 6 authors, all author's name should be listed. However, if there are more than six authors, only six names are required, and the rest of them are to be replaced by "et al.". The list below demonstrates some examples based on the Vancouver system.
